Comment:

We have owned property near Carlin Bay since 1998. We drive right by Wolf lodge Bay on our way. It is one of the premier bays on Lake Coeur d lane. In the summer it is full of boaters. In the winter there a many bald eagles feeding with many people watching them.

A commercial enterprise does not fit in with this pattern of use.

The mission statement of Idaho public lands:

Idaho's public trust lands are the lands submerged below the ordinary high water mark of navigable lakes and rivers. Title to these lands is held in trust and is administered for the public benefit rather than for a specific beneficiary. IDL manages these lands to provide for their commercial, navigational, recreational and other uses."

This commercial use does not fit this mission statement
