Subject: No to State Purchase of Land

Dear Darrell Early:

I am writing to ask you to oppose the state purchasing more land and reducing the amount of private property in Idaho.

Idaho is one of the last bastions of true freedom in these great states. Please do not whittle that away and place greater burden on we the people. We'd be delighted if the state purchased land from the Federal Government!!

By purchasing more state land all that does is bring more regulations to the private property owners hurting small rural cities.

I am opposed to the State purchasing private timber-lands. This type of action takes the land off of the tax rolls. I always favor private purchase of these types of parcels, keeping the land in the private sector.

Dear Darrell Early:

Less than 30% of Idaho land is privately owned. That is one of the biggest impediments many Idaho counties have to growth, employment, and funding of local services. Don't make the problem worse by removing more private property from the tax rolls. It is also wrong for the state to be competing with private citizens for the limited resource of private property in our state. Just the fact that the state doesn't have to pay property tax gives the state an unfair advantage in purchasing land. The state competing with private businesses is only going to make it more difficult to establish and maintain the business we need to maintain and expand our economy and jobs in Idaho. We need more private property in the state of Idaho not less. Please oppose any more purchases of private land by the state in Idaho.

We live in Lemhi county which is only 8% privately owned. The Salmon school district has been trying to pass a bond to build a new school. Our tax base is so small it has failed every time they have tried to pass one. We don't need the State to buy up any more private land they can buy up as much Federal land as they can get. I think the State would take much better care of the Salmon-Challis National Forest. Thank you

Dear Darrell Early:

I am writing to ask you to oppose the state purchasing more land and reducing the amount of private property in Idaho.

I strongly oppose the net loss of private property in our state. The addition of more land to the state shifts the growing tax implications to the other private property holder. Idaho is already 70% owned by state and federal. Stop the madness!

Dear Darrell Early:

This proposal will have numerous negative consequences for the residents and business owners of Idaho. The reinvestment policy, which allows for the purchase of private timber and agriculture land, should be discontinued. Since the state does not pay property taxes, the state can afford to pay higher prices, giving them an unfair advantage over private timber companies who would like to purchase the same timberland.

I oppose the Idaho Land Board purchasing private timber-lands and thereby removing them from the state tax rolls. If Idaho feels it needs to re-invest in timber-lands then you should purchase them from the U.S. Forest Service. Only that type of land purchase would have a positive impact on Idaho.

Do not purchase additional private land removing it from the tax rolls. A reinvestment policy that allows for the purchase of private lands is unfair.

Idaho County is 86% publicly owned. We already have enough land off the property tax rolls. We already have so little land for private enterprise

Subject: Land manipulation

Dear Darrell Early:

I am writing to ask you to oppose the state purchasing more land and reducing the amount of private property in Idaho.

If the idea here, in part or in full, is to manipulate land value in an effort to increase tax revenue from private property then I oppose it. Property value is already being driven up by an influx of people seeking to exit states which thru similar and or other government efforts have become unlivable. Do we want Idaho to become part of the problem instead of one of a limited number of successes? Low and middle income housing is already becoming unaffordable in the state due to disenchanted people abandoning the mess they helped create in other states inflating property value here, just as it happened in Washington state 50 years or so ago. As a retired property owner, who's invested a substantial amount in the state and my local area, I would like the state to consider the impact of policy on those it serves. We have a beautiful state that values independence and self reliance. Let's keep it that way. Instead of constantly introducing new legislation of which the public usually has little notice of, let alone input to, let's update or refine the laws we already have. As an example we have tax assessment policy that is in conflict with environmental incentives put in place for residential construction. Two factions of the same government disputing state regulation because the legislature apparently can't write clear intent into their legislation. Let's fix that and other ineffective policy before creating new bureaucracy.
